TESTIMONIALS SAY IT ALL!

Whether it is training your employees, your sales staff, or your customers, having top-notch hands-on training programs utilizing technology, knowledge, and experience is the most effective way to conduct your business.

We aren't suggesting you change your training process....we are suggesting you replace knowledge-based training with hands-on training to enhance and revitalize it. Here is what others say::

Data Industry Fluent - "uniquely aware of new trends and developments in the data industry, and able to systematically use this skill to solve business problems, improve productivity, and impart knowledge..."

Delivery on Commitments - "a very strong sense of ownership and passion to drive and deliver...especially when short deadlines or complex situations pose a challenge."

Telecom Industry Expertise - "...a thorough understanding of the telecoms industry infrastructure, the value and impact of emerging technologies, and the market dynamics. Can readily use this expertise to develop new product and business opportunities for the business entity."

Problem Solvers - "Innate ability to quickly identify latent issues in complex situations, develop required course of action, and execute (independently as well as with teams)."

CELLSTREAM, INC. PROFESSIONAL TRAINING SERVICES

The speed of change in technology and innovation makes keeping up with the latest technologies very difficult if not impossible. "Internet Time" - Every major corporation has realized the value of training and improvement of employee knowledge. The last thing any student wants is to be trained by someone who has learned the material but has no practical experience. The second to last thing they want is information only – they can Google that!!

All these issues can be solved by sourcing your training needs with CellStream. The key benefits of using CellStream's Training Services can be summed up as follows:

1. Proven track record of enhancement and revitalization of existing training programs at small and large enterprises.
2. Creation of new training programs utilizing experienced and effective training techniques.
3. Key technical and market content, and expertise of the CellStream staff.
4. Speed, Accuracy, and Reliability.
